

Detective Work

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Types	OSINT
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> CTF	Hackerverse

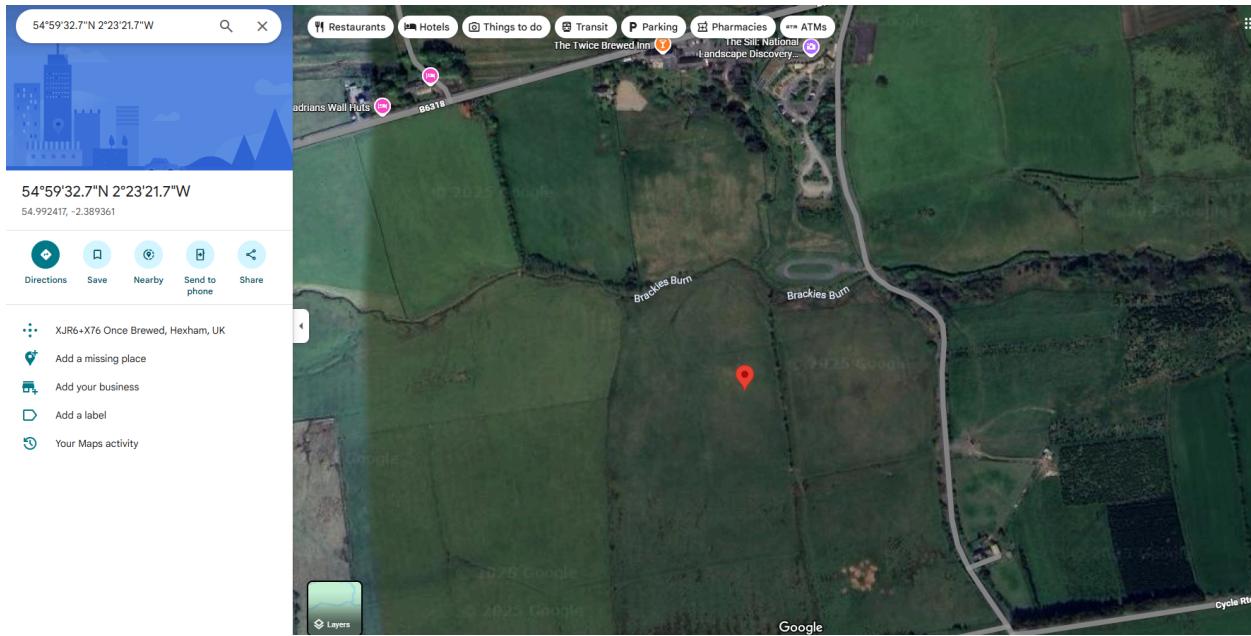

50

You're a geolocation and reconnaissance specialist at ZS Forensics. Your expertise spans two critical areas: pinpointing exact locations from visual clues in photos and surveillance footage, and uncovering what's happening at those locations. You can identify a building from a single architectural detail, trace coordinates using shadows and landmarks, then dig deep to discover events, gatherings, protests, concerts, or incidents that occurred at that specific place and time. Whether it's analyzing a blurry social media post to find both the location AND the event that was happening there, or cross-referencing satellite imagery with local news archives and social media activity, you excel at painting the complete picture of 'where, when, and what.' When investigators need to know not just 'where was this taken?' but also 'what was happening there?' - you're their go-to expert.

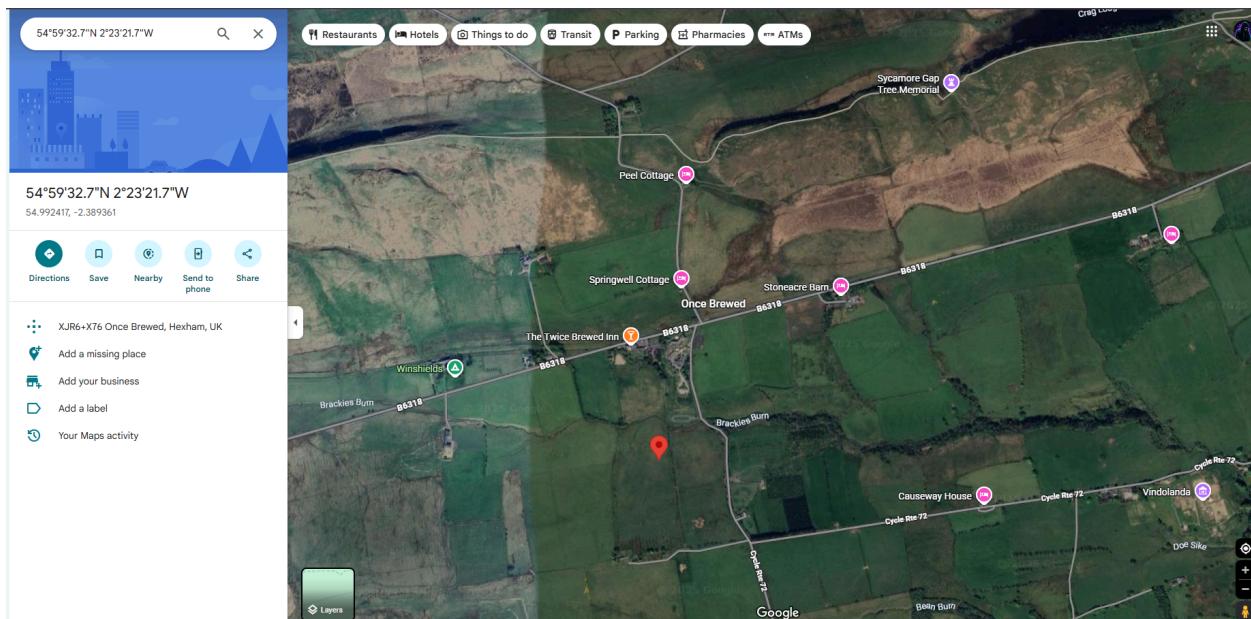

Question

A tragedy happened near 54°59'32.7"N 2°23'21.7"W some time between 2020-2025. What is the name of the famous victim (not human but a living thing)?
(Answer Format: xxxxxxxx xxx xxxx)

at first i paste the coordinate and it brought us to in the middle of Brackies Burn

but then i try to zoom out and found the memorial words that might be relate with our description above about a tragedy

54°59'32.7"N 2°23'21.7"W

Saved

Recents

Once Brewed

Kuala Lumpur ...

International...

Sycamore Gap Tree Memorial

4.8 ★★★★★ (519)

Memorial • 🇬🇧

Overview Reviews About

Directions Save Nearby Send to phone Share

Sponsored • By Viator :

Highlights of Hadrian's Wall with Local Guide

RM 314 · 5.0 ★ (2)

Free cancellation

Restaurants Hotels Things to do Transport

i try click to read more details

Sycamore Gap tree

Article Talk

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Sycamore Gap tree, also known as the Robin Hood tree, was a 150-year-old sycamore tree next to Hadrian's Wall near Crag Lough in Northumberland, England. It was illegally felled in 2023, but has since sprouted from the stump. Standing in a dramatic dip in the landscape created by glacial meltwater, it was one of the country's most photographed trees and an emblem for the North East of England. It derived its alternative name from featuring in a prominent scene in the 1991 film Robin Hood: Prince of Thieves. The tree won the 2016 England Tree of the Year award, part of the Woodland Trust's annual competition that celebrates culturally and environmentally significant trees across the UK. As the national winner for England, the Sycamore Gap tree received a £1,000 care grant funded by the People's Postcode Lottery.

The tree was illegally felled in the early morning of 28 September 2023. Northumbria Police described the felling of the tree as "an act of vandalism". Two men from Cumbria, aged 38 and 31, were arrested in October 2023 and charged in April 2024 with criminal damage both to the tree and to the adjacent Hadrian's Wall.^[1] Their trial began on 28 April 2025 at Newcastle Crown Court and they were found guilty on 9 May. Both men were sentenced to 4 years and 3 months in prison on 15 July 2025.

The stump has thrown up basal shoots and is still alive, albeit severely coppiced; the tree is expected to take more than 150 years to recover. Cuttings were also gathered from the tree.^[2]

Location [edit]

⋮ 20 languages

Read Edit View history Tools

Coordinates: 55.00356°N 2.37387°W

Sycamore Gap tree

View of the tree from the north in October 2020, before it was cut down in 2023. Hadrian's Wall is visible to the left and in front of the tree.

Wikimedia Commons OpenStreetMap

Species	Sycamore (Acer pseudoplatanus)
Location	Near Crag Lough,

Appearance hide

Text

Small Standard
 Large

Width

Standard
 Wide

Color (beta)

Automatic Light
 Dark

all the description is matched in the details

the flag is Sycamore Gap tree